This column is designed to give official VA answers to veterans' readjustment problems. Send questions to: RIGHT GUIDE, 1031 South Broadway, Los Angeles 15, California.

Every sixth person in Southern California is a war veteran.

Estimates made by the Veterans Administration and the California Chamber of Commerce place the entire population in the areas covered by the Los Angeles and San Diego VA regional offices at 5,095,000 and the number of veterans of both World Wars at 753,905. Of this veteran population 600,206 are of World War II and 153,699 of other wars.

A total of 77,279 veterans in this part of the state are drawing disability pensions. A breakdown of this figure shows 52,793 World War veterans on the pension lists and 24,486 of other wars.

Death pensions are being paid 10,710 beneficiaries of veterans of both wars, 7,737 World War I, and 2,973 World War II. According to government reports released in June from Washington, California with 17,022 was fourth in the number of services men killed in World War II. New York with 31,215 was first; Pennsylvania with 26,554 second and Illinois with 18,601 was third.

The veteran population, according to VA reports, county by county in the area covered by the Los Angeles and the San Diego regional offices are:

Millions In War Surplus Items Offered To Vets

Highlighting the multi-million dollar inventory of war surpluses being offered this week, exclusively to World War veterans at Fort Huachuca naval base near Oxnard, are 534 steel truss and corrugated iron buildings, originally designed for use by our armed forces as powder magazines, John F. Taggart, regional War Assets Administration sales chief, announced yesterday, as the gigantic continuous site sale entered its second week.

These buildings are all new and still in the original shipping crates. Their overall dimensions vary from 14' by 20' to 26' 50", and they sell for 50 cents per square foot, f.o.b., Fort Huachuca.

In addition are 43 buildings ten feet square; eight steel-framed parachute loft buildings, 20' by 40'; and 17 corrugated iron and steel frame lean-to-type boiler rooms, 10'6" by 24'.
